According to a Defence Co-ordination Department Notification No.529-OR/1/40, published in the Gazette of India Extraordinary of the 23rd of July 1940, France was declared to be enemy territory and therefore all remittances from India to that country are prohibited under Part XV of the Defence of India Rules. Such remittances are, however, allowed in cases where the Government of India are satisfied that they are required for the repatriation of British Indian subjects as well as subjects of Indian States, or for their maintenance till repatriation, or for the support of those British Indian subjects and subjects of Indian States who are unable to travel through no fault of their own. Remittances by or to persons other than British subjects, which term includes British Indian subjects and subjects of Indian States, are not permitted.

2. As far as the provision of funds is concerned, payments will be made by His Majesty's Government through the United States of America Consular authorities in unoccupied France, against a guarantee of repayment by the friends or relatives in India of the Indian nationals concerned. Such payments for the purpose of maintenance, pending repatriation, are subject to a maximum monthly limit per person.

3. All requests for assistance to Indian nationals in unoccupied France should be forwarded to this office and should be accompanied by a guarantee of repayment of any sums that may be advanced to the parties concerned by His Majesty's Government at the request of the Government of India.

N.B.

The above procedure is also applicable in respect of remittances to unoccupied France by relatives in India of British subjects resident in that territory, But request for remittances by such persons in India should normally be made to His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom.
